Portfolio manager's comment

April saw global equities continue to rise, supported by stimulus measures and the acceleration of vaccine rollouts. The US recorded positive economic data and corporate earnings beat expectations. The S&P500 and Nasdaq gained over 5% for the month, the Dow Jones Industrial Average gained 2.70%. The rotation from pandemic beneficiary growth stocks to more cyclically orientated stocks is still in effect as investors anticipate lockdown easing to continue. US Treasuries continue to offer negative real yields across most of the yield curve which has benefited gold. Inflation has been a concern due to the excessive stimulus in the system and deglobalization, this can be seen in commodity and other input costs. Emerging markets lagged developed markets. India recorded a second wave of covid-19 which grabbed headlines as the country's healthcare infrastructure reached its limits. Locally, the JSE was largely flat gaining 0,68% for the month. Resources gained 2,70%, Industrials lost 1,33%, Listed Property outperformed returning 9.95% and Financials were largely flat at 0,55% for the month. The SARB kept interest rates unchanged at 3.5% to help boost the economy. SA government bonds have started attracting foreign investors due to the high yields on offer compared to other countries.
