OBJECTIVE

In selecting securities, artificial intelligence based quantitative processes may be used to seek out opportunities.

APPLICATION

The fund is suitable for use by investors with a long term investment horizon who are comfortable with shorter term volatility as well as the risk associated with a fund mandated to achieve real long term growth. In selecting equities the manager will seek to identify global trends that impacts earnings growth and select such companies whose earnings are best positioned to capture the benefits of these drivers.

INVESTMENT THEME & REVENUE DRIVERS

- * Equities however exhibit different risk-return characteristics in different economic conditions.
- * The manager will select stocks and determine the overall allocation to equities based on the global macroeconomic outlook. In selecting equities the manager will seek to identify powerful global trends that impact earnings growth and select such equities from the South African and world's equity markets.
- * The manager will seek companies whose earnings are best positioned to capture the benefits of these drives.

Adding to relatively recent concerns regarding economic growth, is the detection of a new COVID-19 variant. Most of Europe has shut its borders to travellers and, in some cases, made booster shots of vaccines mandatory.

Our view is that the response to the fourth wave will slow demand to the point that the world experiences a negative growth pulse in 2022. Supply side constraints are already starting to impact consumption patterns with sales-to-inventory ratios at very low levels. Conventional wisdom would have it that a low sales-to-inventory ratio would ordinarily lead to robust demand as retailers place orders to bolster stocks ahead of renewed demand. But this time may be a little different. Retailers may well be signaling that demand is already declining and are reducing their stock levels to ensure that they are not caught with excess stock as we move into the new year. For that reason, we are not that concerned that inflation will become structural.

We draw comfort for our investment thesis from the US 10-year Treasury yield that has declined to just above 1.4 percent from 1.7 percent two months ago. If inflation was that much of a problem, nominal yields would be rising as would real yields. But break-even inflation and nominal yields are declining in tandem keeping real rates deep in negative territory. With policy rates tilted upwards in South Africa, in other emerging markets and expected to rise in the US, a bearish flattening of the yield curve would not be an exciting prospect for risk assets.

Standout performances came from AMD, Nvidia, Pfizer, LAM, and Hermes which appreciated between 17 and 32 percent. On the negative side of the performance curve, XPO, Square and PayPal gave back some of their stellar gains. We continue to maintain high levels of cash as a risk mitigation strategy.

An analysis of factors affecting the adherence to the policy objective is contained in the fund manager commentary together with performance as reported. A detailed listing of changes from the previous quarter is available on request from info@miplan.co.za or clientservices@ipmc.co.za

Collective Investment Schemes are generally medium to long term investments. The value of participatory interests or the investment may go down as well as up. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Collective investment schemes are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending. A schedule of fees and charges and maximum commissions is available on request from the manager. The Manager does not provide any guarantee either with respect to the capital or the return of a portfolio. The Manager retains full legal responsibility for the Fund, regardless of Co-Naming arrangements. Transaction cutoff time is 14:30 daily. Each portfolio may be closed for new investments. Valuation time is 15:00 (17h00 at quarter end). Prices are published daily and available in newspapers countrywide, as well as on request from the Manager. IP Management Company (RF) Pty Ltd is the authorised Manager of the Scheme – contact 021 673 1340 or clientservices@ipmc.co.za. Standard Bank is the trustee / custodian – contact compliance-ip@standardbank.co.za. Additional information including application forms, the annual report of the Manager and detailed holdings of the portfolio as at the last quarter end are available, free of charge, from clientservices@ipmc.co.za. IP Management Company is a member of ASISA. A statement of changes in the composition of the portfolio during the reporting period is available on request. The performance is calculated for the portfolio. The individual investor performance may differ as a result of initial fees, the actual investment date, the date of reinvestment and dividend withholding tax. The fund is invested in portfolios of collective investment schemes that levy their own charges, and which could result in a higher fee structure for the fund.
